Learn at Stanford.

Founded in 1891, Stanford University has a mission to educate students to become critical thinkers and visionary leaders. Students have the opportunity to engage with faculty, to collaborate with classmates, and to integrate the knowledge gained in the classroom with future goals.

During Stanford Summer Session, current Stanford undergraduate and graduate students and visiting students from all over the world are invited to experience the university's unique fourth academic quarter.

STANFORD SUMMER INTENSIVE STUDIES

This new initiative offers students the opportunity to engage deeply with a single area of study. Exploring topics outside their majors, students can expand their understanding of important social issues, providing a valuable grounding for graduate school or the job market. Topics of study include:

PHYSICS

GLOBAL MANAGEMENT

COMPUTER SCIENCE

WATER MANAGEMENT

ORGANIC CHEMISTRY

HUMAN RIGHTS

Discover a newfound passion for a subject area. Explore the big picture. Challenge your thinking. Flex your creativity. Meet a global community of your peers. Make an impact in your local community. Empower others. Empower yourself.

SUMMER INTERNATIONAL HONORS PROGRAM

The Stanford Summer International Honors Program (SSIHP) invites talented undergraduate and graduate students from around the world to study at Summer Session. Selected by their home universities, these students earn Stanford credit for the summer while living and learning with their accomplished peers. SSIHP students are invited to special dinners at the Faculty Club and to a larger lecture series, giving them outside-the-classroom access to some of Stanford's most accomplished faculty.

STANFORD SUMMER INTERNATIONAL HONORS STUDENTS

- » Engage in a challenging course of study with a wide variety of world views to explore.
- » Participate in speaking engagements featuring notable Stanford faculty members.
- » Explore the dynamic business environment of Silicon Valley.
- » Forge new connections with an international community of fellow students.

Meet peers from Mexico, Turkey, Greece, Iceland, Finland, United Kingdom, China, South Korea, France, Italy and elsewhere.

HIGH SCHOOL SUMMER COLLEGE

High School Summer College invites inquisitive and passionate high school students to immerse themselves in college life, take Stanford classes for credit, and forge lasting friendships. We look for students who aspire to be exceptional in their studies and use what they've learned to carve out their own place in the world. Students develop their own schedule from over 125 classes in the schools of Humanities & Sciences, Earth Sciences, and Engineering. And like all Stanford students, they learn with a diverse group of peers while being taught by talented faculty in a dynamic environment.

STUDENTS IN HIGH SCHOOL SUMMER COLLEGE CAN

- » Take Stanford courses for credit and earn a Stanford University transcript.
- » Explore and discover new subject areas that may influence future studies.
- » Learn to manage time effectively in a college environment.
- » Participate in academic, cultural, and social extracurricular activities.

Stanford's location in the San Francisco Bay Area provides countless opportunities for growth outside the classroom, from Silicon Valley innovation to San Francisco culture and natural beauty in every direction.

Live at Stanford.

We provide all students the opportunity to balance challenging academics with educational and social activities.

Students who choose to live on campus build community within the residences and collaborate with their staff to develop programs. In addition, students are invited to attend a speaker series with speakers from around the world, play intramural sports, invite a faculty member to dinner, and explore the Bay Area. The community created in the residences supplements the learning happening in the classroom. Experience the Stanford residential tradition.
